

Creative sectors in rural area

Anghel Saligny Technical College
Baia Mare, Romania
"Building successful careers together"

Maramureș County:

- ✓ is in the northern part of Romania, up to 43% is covered by the mountains, the rest of the county are hills, plateaus, and valleys.
- ✓ is known for its pastoral and agricultural traditions, for its beautiful rural scenery, local small woodwork and craftwork industry as well as for its churches and original rural architecture.
- ✓ is home to many villages where century-old traditions are still part of daily life.
- ✓ the economy is based on tourism, agriculture, but also has components of industry and technology, located mainly near the municipalities of Baia Mare and Sighetu Marmatiei.

Many students from rural area study at the CTAS, they are creative and have practical skills acquired from family and lifestyle.

They are examples for other colleagues, and they easily learn the technical and transversal competencies, which they later apply in their professional activities after graduation, many of them returning to their home areas.

They do these things, while preserving the traditions, conserving nature and trying to ensure the sustainability of the development of the area.

Creative sector in rural area - wood processing in the traditional way

- Two of our best students in the future profession of car mechanic, working with wood in the traditional way specific to the Land of Lăpuș.

Not only do they create wooden works of art, but they also have musical skills and use their own musical instruments.

This is just one of the many traditions of Maramureș preserved and passed down
from generation to generation

But Marmureş is developing based on creativity, innovation and education in a sustainable way, without affecting the past, making the present attractive and ensuring the future.
